RECENT STORM DAMAGE IS $75,000

Big Sum Required to Pay Actual Expense of Repairs.

ECHOES OF BIG BLOW.

Complete List of Houses and Buildings Which Were Damaged by Fierce Tornado.

The devastation caused by the storm of Wednesday afternoon is still the principal subject of conversation. Everyone has some thrilling experience to relate, and further investigation shows that more houses were injured than was at first supposed, but few structures, however, were seriously damaged most of the property escaping with broken chimneys, prostrated fences, etc. The worst damage was done at the plant of the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Co., where the loss is placed at $6,000.

The Gazette of Wednesday, in describing the storm referred to houses which had suffered more seriously. The roof was blown from the store of E. Goldsmiths at the southeast corner of King and Lee streets; the residence of Benjamin Posey, on Lee street, between King and Prince, was badly damaged, the east end of the residence of Mrs. J. W. Burke, on Wilkes street, between Lee and Fairfax was blown in, fencing leveled and the property otherwise damaged; the tin roof of the home of H. R. Burke, on Lee street adjoining, was carried away; the southern wall of the upper story of the residence of William Scott, on Lee street, between Wilkes and Fairfax, was torn out; two houses on the square below, occupied by Kenneth Baggett and Charles Devine, were more or less injured; the roof of the fertilizer plant on Lee street, near Princess, was torn off and thrown on the top of a house occupied by Fannie Kimball, on the opposite side of the street; the west wall of the building occupied by Thomas C. Rawlett, on the south side of King street, near Fairfax, was blown out, and the falling bricks badly damaged the upper story of J. M. Armstrong's house adjoining on the west; the walls of the Kell House, southeast corner of Fairfax and Queen were blown in and the house badly damaged; the house occupied by Mrs. Mullin, northwest corner of Cameron and Pitt streets, had the west wall of the upper story crushed (west wall of this house was blown out by the tornado on September 29, 1896), the residence of G. Wm. Ramsay, on the northeast corner of Cameron and St. Asaph streets, was unroofed and otherwise badly damaged; the home of R. E. Knight, (the old Lewis McKenzie residence) on the north side of Prince street, near Lee, suffered seriously, the chimneys having been blown off and the flying bricks crashed through the residence of William Wattles adjoining on the west; the east and west walls of the electric works at the foot of Wolfe street were blown out; the plant of the Old Dominion Glass Co., in the northeastern section of the city had the roof, one end and one side of the main building carried away. The damage at the Old Dominion is about $3,000.

A big pile driver was torn from its moorings, turned over and sunk at W. A. Smoot & Co.'s wharf, foot of Prince street; the metal roof was stripped from the Colonial Apartment house and deposited on the residence of the Misses Whiting on the opposite side of the street, causing considerable damage.

The roofs of the three brick tenements at 714, 716 and 718 Queen St., ocupied respectively by the families of Mrs. Henderson, Thomas Ennis, and J. T. McIntosh, were lifted and dashed against the upper port of the residence of Harry Hammond, in North Columbus street, knocking a huge hole in the side wall.

The homes of M. A. Quinn, 511 Oronoco street; Mrs. George Harlow, 411 Prince street; J. M. Hill, 410 Prince street, and Dr. S. B. Moore, 411 Prince St., were unroofed; a small cupola was blown from the roof of the Alexandria Hospital, but the damage is slight. The clubhouse of the Old Dominion Boat Club, on the river front was somewhat damaged and a shed and tramway at Aitcheson's wharf was demolished.

The roof of the warehouse of Henry K. Field & Co., lumber dealers, was blown off, and a part of the wall of its engine room destroyed. The roof of the Alexandria gas works was damaged; the northeast corner of the steeple of Old Christ Church was blown out and a number of fine shade trees in the old church yard were badly damaged; the plant of the Emerson Engine Company, southeast corner of Prince and Fairfax streets was damaged. Potomac Hall, 306 North Fairfax street suffered Wednesday during the storm as did also the W. & O. R. R., building on the opposite corner.

The rear end of the residence of P. F. Gorman, on the east side of Lee street, between Prince and Duke, was seriously damaged.

The roof of Sarepta Hall was also damaged.

The roof of Roberts Chapel, colored, in South Washington street, was carried away.

Considerable damage was caused by the storm in both Alexandria and Fairfax counties. A large barn belonging to Miss Hattie Duncan, in Alexandria county, was blown down; the second story of a house at North Braddock, Alexandria county, was damaged. The silo at the barn of Carroll Wolf, Alexandria county, was destroyed.

The cotton seed oil plant near Arlington, was damaged. A new wooden tower, on which was placed four large water tanks to the right of Arlington Station were thrown from their fastening down to the ground.

The Hydraulic Brick Company was loser by the storm. Roofs covering the sheds containing fire clay were taken off and the new brick building not yet occupied was half torn off and thrown completely over. A number of poles alongside the railway tracks east of the power plant of the Washington Utilities Company were blown almost to the ground.

Some damage was done to the buildings at Luna Park.

Mr. McFerguson ,of Richmond, who was a patient at the hospital, was able to leave here today for his home.

J. W. Carver, of Bailey's Cross Roads, who was injured in a runaway accident on the 29th, is getitng along satisfactorily.

J. K. Rawlings, of Fayette street, operated on for appendicitis Wednesday, is resting comfortably today.

Miss Mary Carlin's friends will be glad to know that she is better.

W. S. Thompson, ill of typhoid fever, is getting along well.

D. W. Hogan, of Fairfax county, who was injured on the Southern Railway, is now out of the hospital.

Maggie Entwisle has gone home from the hospital where she was a patient.

Martin Dunn, who was rushed to the hospital Wednesday night, after having fallen over a wheelbarrow, was found to have sprained his hip severely.

The Alexandria Hospital is filled with patients just at present, but during the height of Wednesday's storm every one seemed cool and collected. The nurses did good work in calming the patients and no undue excitement resulted, although several windows were broken, shutters blown down and the roof on the cupola over the room occupied by the dining room maid was taken off by the wind and blown to the yard back of the hospital.

Had an emergency case requiring an immediate operation been received at the Hospital Wednesday night it is uncertain how lights to see to conduct an operation could be secured. The electric current was shut off and certain work in the operating room could not be performed without proper lightning arrangements, such as is supplied by electricity as it is dangerous in giving an anesthetic to have a gas jet burning in the room.

FACTORIES SHUT DOWN YESTERDAY

Power is Cut Off Electric Company Lines Early in Morning.

BUSINESS IS IMPEDED.

Large Loss to Manufacturers by Suspension of Operations—Hopeless Confusion Among Companies.

Alexandria's manufacturing plants were at a complete standstill yesterday as a partial result of the big storm of Wednesday afternoon but more particularly on account of the uncalled for delay and exasperating indifference of the public service corporations of Alexandria who refused to cooperate with one another and muddled conditions to such an extent that the business men of Alexandria were unable to turn a wheel of their big plants.

As a result of the trouble for the first time since the commencement of the civil war when the plant of the Alexandria Gazette was destroyed by union soldiers a regular edition of the paper was not issued, but late yesterday afternoon a small sheet, 9 x 15 inches, was printed on a hand press and distributed to our subscribers giving in brief the news of the day and such storm items as could be inserted.

There was absolutely no reason for the condition of affairs that confronted the Gazette management and which was felt by other manufacturers throughout the city. If there had been the slightest intimation that the electrical service would have been cut out during the entire day arrangement would have been made for the installation of gasoline engines or other methods of operating the machinery so that there would have been no great delay. But one excuse after another was given throughout the day that the power would be put on and not a single promise was kept.

At 8 o'clock, when the power was first cut off it was promised again at 9 o'clock. At nine there was further delay and the hour of ten o'clock was set. At ten the time was exended until 12. At 12 further time was asked for until one. At one the time was again lengthened until two o'clock. At two the power was positively promised at three, and at three a man was sent to the power house to turn on the current. It was nearing seven o'clock, however, when the current was finally passed over the wires. In meanwhile business men were fuming, fussing and cursing; managers, superintendents, foremen and wiremen ran around in a circle and did nothing, the mayor was trying to do his best to solve a difficulty which could have been settled in a five minutes conference between the four companies which run their wires along Alexandria's streets in the most unsightly, disgraceful and dangerous manner known to any civilized community.

When the storm was at its height on Wednesday afternoon the power was cut off from all the wires in the city but it was resumed shortly before seven o'clock the same night. The Gazette was delayed several hours but the edition contained a partial account of the storm. Power was kept on all Wednesday night and there was no damage, but yesterday morning at 8 o'clock the trouble began. One of the horses of the Mutual Ice Company was killed at the corner of Fairfax and Duke streets by stepping on a wire of the Capital City Telephone Company, which had crossed one of the power lines of the Alexandria County Lighting Company. Immediately orders were given to cut off the power lines until all the other wires were cleared. This order was first given by F. F. Marbury, president of the Board of Aldermen and afterwards confirmed by Mayor Fisher, who gave the County Lighting Company written instructions to cut off the current on account of the danger.

Mayor Fisher was actuated by the best motives in issuing his order but he had no idea that as soon as he had written it all the companies would lay down on the job, that there would be no co-operation between them and that everything would be kept at a standstill for the entire day.

There was no system in clearing up the streets of the fallen wires, each company working on its own behalf instead of trying to clear up a portion of the city so that the current could be turned on in that section. An example of this is shown by the fact that it was stated late yesterday afternoon that the Postal Telegraph Company could not report their lines clear because they were tangled up in a big tree in the extreme northwestern section of the city.

The telephone service was badly damaged and several hundred phones are still out of commission. A large force of wiremen were employed by all companies to straighten up the lines and the men worked hard all day, but the lack of intelligent direction of all the forces at work produced a chaotic condition that was nothing short of disgraceful.

It is estimated that the manufacturing plants were put to a loss of $5,000 by being compelled to shut down yesterday.

STORM NOTES.

Many Boats Blown Ashore—Big Canoe Tossed From Shore to Railroad Track.

Many thrilling scenes were witnessed on the river and about the wharves when the storm struck Alexandria Wednesday afternoon. Boats were broke from their moorings and in many instances were sunk. As is usual during the summer season, many motorboats were on the river, most of which, however, managed to get ashore before the high wind set in.

Several small excursion parties had a trying time on the lower river by their boats being dashed ashore. Fortunately no one was hurt.

A heavy canoe, which was lying near the shore on Union street, between Wilkes and Gibbon, was picked up by the wind and hurled across the street and on the railroad track.

The launch Edna Earle, belonging to Harry Fleischmann, was sunk during the storm.

A brick house, being constructed near Braddock, belonging to R. T. Atkinson, was almost demolished by the storm, the second floor walls and part of the first floor walls being blown down.

Considerable damage to the Robert Portner Brewery was occasioned by the blowing over of a part of the water tank and the roof of the rocking room where barrels are washed.

The new metal building just erected in Rosemont to house the recently purchased chemical fire apparatus of the Roremont Citizens' Association was almost demolished, it will have to be rebuilt. Some damage was done to the hose wagon and the fire extinguishers exploded after being blown to the ground.

DAMAGE GREATER THAN THAT OF 1896

No Loss of Life But More Houses Are Unroofed by Wind.

WIND VELOCITY LESS.

Effects of Two Big Storms in Alexandria in Seventeen Years Are Compared.

That Wednesday's storm was the most severe disturbance Alexandria has ever experienced in the amount of damage done is the belief of the oldest inhabtant. The only storm that can be compared with it is the one of September 29th, 1896, and at that time the property damage was not so great although there were two lives lost.

The Storm of 1896.

At midnight of September 29, 1896 nearly seventeen years ago, Alexandra was visited by a storm which will be remembered by every person in Alexandrla, who passed through the experence.

The storm created consternation and panic and threw women into hysterics, caused children to cry out in alarm and strong men to stand aghast at the devastation of the elements—death also followed in the wake of the distubance and in two instances flying bricks and debris had crushed out human life.

On the afternoon of the 29th, easterly winds several times assumed a velocity which caused some apprehension among those who watched the antics of the weather—causing predictions that before morning a severe storm would visit the city—which prediction was abundently vertified in the disturbance which followed.

Few people retred at their usual hour at night and fear to sleep until long after the storm had subsided.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock in the evening the wind was whistling and blowing in a manner to portend disaster and by 11 o'clock, had reached the proportions of a gale which awakened the few who had the temerit to retire for the night. Half an hour later bricks and chimneys began falling and it was between this time and the half-hour past midnight that the damage was done. By one o'clock the elements had subsided—and stars began to appear in the heavens. Of the fatalities two people were found to have been killed outright—Mrs. Louisa Holt, an aged lady who had recently come to the city, and Wm. Dunlap Stewart, both of whom were crushed to death—the later at his home on Cameron street, between Pitt and St. Asaph streets—Mrs. Holt was crushed to death beneath a pile of debris in an upper room of her home, on Peyton steet.

The colored Baptist Church, corner Patrick and Princess streets, was completely demolished,— Schuler's Hall had part of Southern end blown out—and the roof torn off which was blown against the residence of J. Rector Smoot, opposite.

The residence Mrs. Edgar Snowden was damaged and chmneys blown down. The Virginia Glass Works were damaged to the extent of $1,500.

The roof of Isaac Eichberg and Sons store was carried away.

The Braddock House and the Exchange and Ballard Houses were unroofed.

It was estimated that fully 200 buildngs in the city were either wrecked or damaged and, the loss was estimated at $100,000.

The south dial of the town clock was blown in and the clock stopped.

The storm interfered with running of both electric and steam trains, many passenger cars being damaged and their windows broken.

Crop loss on G. K. Picketts farm in Fairfax, amounted to $1000. The Mahontyville Distillery was badly damaged

The station houses of Washington and Southern Ry, at Mamow station were blown down.

Reports stated 15 vessels between Lower Cedar Point and Smiths Piont were ashoe.

The schooner Capitol foundered off Smiths point and the crew drowned.

CLEAR STREETS OF TORNADO DEBRIS

Twisted Tree Trunks And Limbs Moved From Thoroughfares.

HISTORIC TREES GONE.

Impossible to set value on Beautiful Shade Trees Which Were Felled by The Storm's Blast.

Practically paralyzed by Wednesday's big tornado and torrent which had brought ruing and destruction in many homes, Alexandria awoke yesterday morning prepared to start the work of restoring things to their usual tidy condition. And it was a big work that faced the community. The streets were fairly covered with twisted tree trunks and broken limbs which had been torn down by the storm's blast. Tin roofs littered the streets and here and there were piles of brick and mortar which had been hurled from falling walls and chimneys.

As people passed along the streets early yesterday morning and saw the results of the cyclonic gale which had so severely buffeted the city there was a general congratulation that there had been no loss of life caused by the furious elements. Many narrow escapes were reported; people had just left places where falling walls had landed but there is not a report of even the slightest accident to cause distress.

The greatest work that engaged the city government was the cleaning of the streets of he debris. Some of the streets were impassable on account of the big trees that had fallen across the roadway and these were given first attention. A large number of men were employed in sawing and cutting the big trunks while dozens of wagons were engaged in hauling away the limbs and debris which was on every hand.

While the streets were being cleared citizens were trying to have their property repaired.

Tinners and carpenters were in demand. Contractors are calling for extra men. The work of replacing roofs and other damaged parts will go on for weeks. In addition, plastered walls in many homes were ruined. This will entail a great loss running into the thousands.

Many cellars were flooded. Valuabl household goods stored in basements were ruined by torrents of water sweeping into them.

While the damag eto the buildings is serious and will cause heavy financial loss, the damage to Alexandria's tree lined streets is beyond repair. Hundreds of great trees, which were the pride of the city went down before the storm's fury. Historic oaks, which have stood in their places for a century were destroyed, and it will be many years before Alexandria it at at an ytime will recover from the loss is this direction.

NEXT TUESDAY'S ELECTION

Contest For Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General and Commissioner of Agriculture

While in many sections of the state the friends of Messrs. J. Tayler Ellyson and L. H. Machen are active in the fight for the nomination of Lieutenant Governor, there is no little interest in Alexandria as to the outcome and a large vote will be polled, as the city Democratic committee is using every means to bring out every ballot.

The candidates for attorney general,—Messrs. Samuel W. Williams, John Garland Pollard and S. Gordon Cummings, have active friends in the city.

Messrs. G. W. Koiner and John Thompson Brown, candidates for the commissioner of agriculture, have supporters in Alexandria and the votes will probably be close between them.

The city democratic committee will hold a meeting tonight or tomorrow night to perfect arrangements for the primary, when the usual officers will be selected to receive the ballots. The polls will be opened at the usual places at sunrise Tuesday and remain open until sunset.

It is earnestly hoped that every Democrat will realize that it is his duty as well as his privilege to vote, and that the exertions of the committee towards this end may meet with he success they deserve.

LABOR DAY PICNIC.

Alexandria Trades Council Will Celebrace Occasion at The Dyke.

The Alexandria Trades Council is preparing for a big celebration on Labor Day at the Dyke. Arrangements have been made with the Washington Utilities Company, which has charge of this resort, to put the dancing pavillion and the grounds in shape for the occasion and the committee having charge of the affairs is at work on a program of athletic and other sports for the day. Among the features of the program so far arranged are two baseball games by well known teams and a prize waiting contest. Prizes will be awarded the winners in every contest.

There will be a meeting of the Labor Day Committee at 6:45 this evening in the Trades Council Hall which will decide whether speaking will be a feature of the day or not. At the celebration last year former Governor Montague was the chief speaker.

CONTRACT AWARDED.

There was but one bid for the removal of night soil to be considered by the Mayor yesterday—that of H. T. Beach & Bro., whose bid was $100. Those parties were awarded the contract. The city received $225 from this source last year. The reason assigned for the low sum bid for this privilege at present is the fact that sewer tapping is gradually expanding throughout the city.

ATTEMPT TO START A FIRE

Coal Oil Used in Endeavor to Burn a Store on South Fairfax Street

While Henry Schlichting was on his way home at a late hour last night his attention was attracted by the smell of burning oil in the store of John Metcalfe, 129 South Royal street. He and several neighbors entered the place and threw burning rags from a drawer in which they had been placed, and no serious damage followed.

The police were notified and they started an investigation. Metcalfe upon being apprised of the attempt to burn the place, made an inventory and stated that some canned goods had been taken from the place.

It developed that an attempt had been made to burn the store. The would-be incendiary had soaked rags in coal oil and placed them in the drawer. After igniting them the drawer was closed, which bungling act by the pyromanic prevented them from blazing as no air could get to the drawer.

The store used by Metcalfe is a wooden structure on the east side of the street. A similar house adjoins it on the north, and had the fire succeeded ingaining headway a serious conflagration would doubtless have followed

WOMAN WAS UNDISTURBED.

Sleeps Peacefully While Upper Story of House Was Being Demolished.

While the wind was blowing with the velocity of about seventy miles an hour Wednesday afternoon, a colored woman was asleep in a house on the southwest corner of Oronoco and Fairfax streets. The second story of the structure was carried away as clean as if a huge saw had been used upon it and thrown some distance away, smashing it into kindling wood. The woman's dreams were undisturbed and she escaped injury.

TOWN CLOCK STOPS.

While the storm was raging Wednesday the high wind deranged the machinery of the town clock and it came to a standstill. The steeple was somewhat damaged by the elements, but nothing serious occurred. The clock was later started on its course.

Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts of America when hearing of the storm in Alexandria, departed for Alexandria. It was reported in Fredericksburg that the city was flooded and fire had broke out. PASTOR KILLS SNAKE.

Crushes Reptile in Church Without Pausing in Discourse.

Bristol, Tenn., Aug. 1.—Without in any way disturbing his discoure, the Rev. Mr. Dykes, who is conducting a series of meetings at Sunshine, Tenn., killed a snake that intruded upon the service. As Dr. Dykes proceeded with his sermon he observed the reptile, which was 2 1-2 feet in length, slowly coming down the aisle.

Desirous of avoiding fright among the women, he advanced slowly from the pulpit to meet the snake, continuing his sermon as though nothing of a threatening nature was happening. Using his heel, he came down full weight upon the reptile's head and ended its life. After accomplishing his mission by leaving the pulpit, he returned to conclude his sermon and few in the church knew what had happened until the service had closed.

Now the English women are discussing whether busy men have time for making love to their wives. Perhaps they don't have so much opportunity in this line as the idlers, but the chances are that the said wives have more spending money than some others.

Costly Treatment.

"I was troubled with constipation and Indigestion and spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment," writes C. H. Hines, of Whitlow, Ark. "I went to a St. Louis hospital, also to a hospital in New Orleans, but no cure was affected. On returning home I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets, and worked right along. I used them for some time and now I am all right." For sale by all dealers.

BULL MOOSE TO MEET

Progressives will Discuss Advisability of Placing Ticket in Field.

Roanoke, Va. Aug. 1—Thomas Lee Moore chairman of the Progressive party in Virginia has called a meeting of the State Executive Committee, to be held August 2 in Richmond.

The circular notice to the committee men does not specify any particular object, but the purpose of the call is understood to be the consideration of putting into the field candidates for State officers at the November elections.

It is likely the session will discuss the suggestion of a reunion with the Republicans. Many State Leaders of the Progressive party have ridicuted the idea of fusion and are emphatic that such a proposal if presented, will be refused.

Deadly Heat Wave.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 1.—Fourteen deaths attributed to excessive heaet have been reported to the health board. Of the victims ten were young children.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 1. — Six deaths have been reported as due to the warm weather.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 1.—Eight babies and three adults have died during the last 24 hours as the result of the heat.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 1. — One death, due to heat, occurred here yesterday.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 1—Two deaths and numerous prostrations have been attributed to the heat here.

VIRGINIA FORTS.

Condemnation of Land at Cape Henry. Seems settled in Washington that Federal Government Will go to Court.

Washington, D. C. Aug. 1—The tangle over land prices between the federal government and the property owners at Cape Henry, Va., where the war department wants to erect a big fort for the protection of Norfolk, Richmond, Baltimore and Washington will be adjusted in the courts. The price differences according to developments today, will be submitted to condemnation proceedings.

Senator Martin, of Virginia, chairman of the senate committee on appropriations, and Senator Swanson, who led the fight for the $150,000 initial appropriation last year in the senate, have joined Congressman Holland in urging the property owners to submit their cases to condemnation proceedings. The government, it is understood is willing to take steps along this line.

From what can be learned here, there is no chance for the purchase of the land by the government by private sale A few of the small property owners are standing out strong for high prices In other instance lots belong to minors while in others the owners cannot be found. Under such circumstances the purchase of these lots must be done through the courts, and engineers take the view that the whole matter may as well be handled under condemnation proceedings.

Congress will not be asked to appropriate any more money for the fortification site until it has been definitely settled what the land will cost It will be up to the war department to make the request for the additional appropriation.

EMACIATED SENTENCED.

W. J. Rowley, Former Auditor of the Jefferson, Pleads Guilty to Charge.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 1—Emaciated and wan from long confinement and the ravages of disease, William J. Rowley formerly auditor in the Jefferson Hotel, was helped into the Hustings court Wednesday morning to plead to the charge of embezzling funds of the Jefferson Realty corporation. On advice of his counsel, Harry M. Smith, Jr., Rowley entered a plea of guilty to the first indictment, charging him with embezzling $1,173.38 from the corporation on March 7th. The second indictment charging him with stealing $101.81 from the corporation was nolle posedued after the plea to the first. Judge Richardson sentenced him to two years in the penitentiary.

Rowley shuddered as the indictment was read and he heard himself charged with stealing. He leaned back in his chair, and clasped his hands nervously together, and seemed on the verge of collapsing as the truth that he was marked before the world as a theif dawned upon him, His physician was with him, and at his request the trial was hastened as much as possible

Rowley has been in jail about four months, which will not, however count on his term in the penitentiary. He came into court on crutches and had to be assisted. He was exhausted when he took his seat, and did not rise when arraigned. His wife was not with him. Rowley is English by birth.

The Truth About Electric Cooking

For large families where the average domestic help is employed and a large amount of cooking done, Electric Cooking will be found more expensive, and in most cases not advisable.

In small families, where no help is employed, and where nice equipment is desired, Electric cooking will be found many times more convenient, more certain in results and safer in operation—as well as reasonable in cost.

In every family a few utensils for early breakfast emergency and special uses—and for cheering up cold meals with a warm dish or two—is highly advisable from every standpoint, including that of economy.

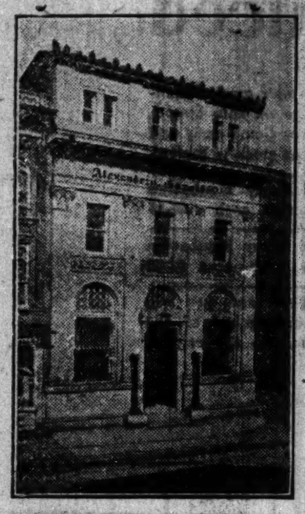
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS



ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.
PUBLISHED DAILY.

The Alexandria Gazette Corporation.
Gazette Building - - - - King Street.

ROBERT S. BARRETT, President and General Manager.

HOWARD W. SMITH, Secretary and Treasurer.

TERMS:—Daily, 1 year, $5.00. Six Months, $2.50. Three Months, $1.25. One month, 43 cents. One week 10 cents.

Entered at the Postoffice of Alexandria, Virginia as second-class matter.

GAZETTE PRINTED IN MINIATURE FORM.

The Gazette failed to print its regular edition yesterday, although a bulletin giving a summary of certain important occurrences was published. This was caused by the cutting off of the electric current as explained in our news columns. The modern press and Mergenthaler type-setting machines used at present in the publication of the Gazette are operated by electricity an dal machinery used in the office was brought to a standstill, by prevailing conditions. The papjer, however, had been written up as usual, and it was promised up to a late hour in the afternoon that current would be supplied the office in time to print our regular edition. At a late hour however, it was seen this would be impossible.

This was the second time in the last half century that the Gazette failed to print its regular edition on a regular publication day. In 1863, when the Gazette was no larger than an eight-by-ten pane of glass, struggling against great oods in the work of keeping up the annals of Alexandria and when bayonets were bristling and as it were everything subject to censorship, the press in the little plant collapsed one evening as we were about to print the paper, and it was found impossible to issue the Gazette that evening. On the succeeding day two papers containing the news of the two days, were sent out.

Many people missed the Gazette yesterday and were sorely disappointed as it was a time when their interest in it had been greatly enhanced, all naturally desiring to read the account of the fierce elemental disturbance through which the city passed on the preceding day. It was equally disappointing to the publishers who had labored assiduously to present every interesting incident in connection with the storm. The latter wended their way home late in the evening realizing that their labors had been useless.

The Gazette has endeavored today to cover the ground and many copies will be sent out of Alexandria by people having relatives and friends in other cities. It will prove equally interesting to permanent residents.

EFFORT TO DEFEAT WALTER T. OLIVER.

Out in Fairfax county, our esteemed fellow editor, S. R. Donohoe, is moving heaven and earth to defeat Walter T. Oliver for re-election to the House of Delegates. His paper, the Fairfax Herald, has for weeks been advocating the cause of Ernest L. Robey, who is running against Oliver. Mr. Donohoe gives as his reason for opposing Oliver that the latter is outspoken in his opposition to the enabling act which will give the people of Virginia the right to vote on statewide prohibition. Early in the campaign Oliver issued a card in which he frankly said:

"Having always voted the straight or regular Democratic ticket since attaining my majority, I am a strong believer in the doctrine of local option or local self-government, which is the cornerstone of Democracy, and am unalterably opposed to the modern theory of Statewide prohibition."

Knowing Fairfax as we do and its little interest in the liquor solution, we are inclined to believe that there are other grounds for Donohoe's opposition to Oliver, grounds that he does not care to make public, and based on personal and political reasons that would greatly strengthen Oliver's cause if the people were apprised of them. For some sime we have heard rumors of political ambitions from Fairfax which would be benefitted by Mr. Oliver's retirement from public life although the interests of the county may be sacrificed thereby.

WILLIAMS WILL WIN EASILY.

While friends of Attorney-General Williams have assured him that he will carry Alexandria by an overwhelming majoriy on Tuesday we would like to see him given practically a unanimous votte from his city. There has not been a single reason advanced why he should not be retained in the position he now holds for another term while there is evidence on every hand of the active and able manner in whic he has served the State during the past four years.

Attention is called to the fact hat Judge Williams, in an effort to save the Ninth District, surrendered the Circuit judgeship to run for Congress. He thus proved his loyalty to our people and State. He was twice Democratic elector and served in the sate senate four years, and has been on the stump for Democracy for forty years in every campaign except when on the bench. As a boy he entered the Confederate army and fought to the end of the war.

Five candidates have been taking the examinations for positions as teachers in the public schools of this city during the past three days. The examinations are being conducted by Superintendent Sweeney.

Accidents.

A colored man while engaged in cutting a tree at Wolf and Royal streets yesterday morning fell and sprained his ankle.

Martin Dunn, living at 501 Cameron street, fell over a barricade on Princess Street last night and injured his back and was treated at the Alexandria Hospital.

Seventy tons of hay belonging to the New Washington Brick Company, whose plant is located in Alexandria County, was struck by lightning during the electrcal storm yesterday afternoon and destroyed by fire.

CARDINALS VS. SOUTHERN R. R.

The strong team of the Southern Railway office, Washington, will play the Cardinal Athletic Club in the baseball park, Saturday, August 2. The visitors have a classy bunch of baseball players, and as th eCardinals have been in a winning mood recently, the game with the "too-toot" boys Saturday, will prime them for the second contest in the championship series with the White Sox, on the lighthouse cove diamond, Sunday at 2:30 P. M.

Change Schedule.

The Southern Railway may now take passengers from its Harrisonburg branch destined for Lynchburg, Va. and points South into Alexandria and Washington where they are permitted to transfer to through trains. Through trains do not stop at Manassas, the junction point of the Harrisonburg branch with the main line. This permission was granted recently by the Interestate Commerce Commission

Washington, D. C. — Emphatic denial of "official" reports from Atlanta, Ga., saying President Finley of the Southern Railway, would resign September 1, was made at the president's office today. This is the second time within a month or two that these rumors have gone abroad, but Finley's confidential secretary says there is no truth in the report.

The Atlanta story says that Finley will become president of either the Southern Pacific or Union Pacific, and that General Manager Taylor of the Mobile and Ohio, would become manager of the Queen and Crescent and Horace Baer, now holding that position, would become vice president of the Southern here.

The presidents secretary said today that no changes in the Southern Railway personnel are contemplated

FRUIT SEASON HERE.

Plethora of Fine Products Expected In Market Tomorrow.

There will doubtless be an exceptionally good supply of cantaloupes, watermelons and peaches in market tomorrow. New Delaware grapes and large currants are on the market. Grapes sell for 35 cents and currants for 45 cents the large basket.

Sweet corn is slightly higher, bringing 25 cents and 30 cents a dozen. Fine Georgia peaches are offered at 55 cents a large basket.

Of the commoner varieties af vegetables the market may be said to be well supplied. There is plenty of celery at 5 to 10 cents a bunch and new beets at 5 cents. New sweet potatoes bring 20 cents a quarter peck, while pineapples at 10 cents each are still cheap but getting scarcer. Bannanas are now of much better quality than those received for some time.

The meat market may be said to have remained stationery. There is no change in the retail prices. The market, however, is well supplied with good beef, lamb, veal and pork. Smoked meats may be purchased at lower prices today than were sold some weeks ago.

Boiled ham and al lcooked meats are a few cents higher, probably on account of the warm weather, which increases the demand for ready to eat meats. Boiled ham is now selling at 50 cents a pound.

Your Liver Needs a Button

Hot Springs Liver Buttons Unclog It and Make You Feel Fine.

Throw Away Your Calomel.

From Hot Springs, Ark., the world's greatest health resort, comes the new, perfect liver remedy. They act directly and positively on the liver, and while sure in results are gentle and pleasant in action.

Don't Let Your Liver Loaf.

When you feel "all in," lack ambition, have no appetite and "don't care whether school keeps or not," it's your liver. It is torpid—not doing its duty—and, of course, you are constipated. The bodily waste, loaded with poisons, is being retained in the bowels and partly re-absorbed into the blood. Can you wonder if you feel heavy and listless?

You must get your liver to working or be sick. But do not think that just any handy pill or drug will do. Calomel is dangerous. You know that.

Hot Springs Liver Buttons are just what you need to revive your jaded appetite and put your liver and bowels in tip-top condition. At druggists', 25c. Sample and 100 of our 17,000 testimonials mailed free by Hot Springs Chemical Co., Hot Springs, Arkansas.
